Minimum and General Content Specifications The following general content specifications in the procurement of the supplementary reading resources must guide the procurement by the Ros or SDOs:
1. Provide a historical background on the work's origins and the author. This part covers the story's historical account and the writer's reason for creating the story. This part shall explain factual information based on research.
2. Complete the verses from the original book, adhering to its original structure. The Ibong Adarna and Florante at Laura supplementary reading materials are designed to make the content easier for teachers and learners to comprehend. Furthermore, since different versions are available in the market, it is deemed that these versions are close to the original (writer's perspective).

	3. Include summaries for each chapter. Learners should understand the language used. Cultural viability explains each event's cultural relevance/meaning in every chapter.
	4. Provide footnotes for words that may be difficult for our learners to understand. Unfamiliar words/phrases must be italicized with a definition and explanation as a footnote at the end of the page.
	5. Create a complete list of characteristics and their descriptions.
	6. Include clear and attractive illustrations for the settings and character portrayals suitable for the age group of the learners.
	7. Definition of Terms. At the end of the materials, a definition of terms shall be provided to explain unfamiliar words/phrases.
	8. Include questions that will challenge the critical thinking of the learner.
